SIZES AND WEIGHTS

When the sum of the three measurements of a package (width + length + height) is between 101 and 150 cm, the price of the shipment will be increased by a base unit, depending on the service and destination.

If the sum of these measurements is between 151 cm and 200 cm (maximum permitted size), the price of the shipment will be increased by two base units. (A base unit is the corresponding price of the fraction of up to 5 kg).

Exception: the NACEX 19:00 H and PORTUGAL 19:00 H services will be increased by an additional fraction of 5 kg.

The e-N@CEX and NACEX PLUSPACK services include a first excess in their price.

ADDITIONAL CHARGING FOR LARGE PACKAGES

Volumetric weight will be applied, whenever superior to the real weight, to all packages in multi-package expeditions or single-package multi-expeditions of this kind.

Volumetric weight is calculated (width x length x height (in cm)/4000 = weight in kg) 1 m³ = 250 kg, the surcharge for being oversized will not be applied in these cases.

• VOLUMETRIC WEIGHT CALCULATION FOR SHIPMENTS BY AIR (Balearic and Canary Islands, Ceuta and Melilla, Azores and Madeira)

For deliveries by air, a volumetric weight is applied (width x length x height (in cm): 6,000 = kg), (1 m³ = 167 kg), provided that this is greater than the actual weight, and no excess size surcharge will be applied).

Deliveries by air must be accompanied by a Declaration of Commitments-Account Consignor, as well as a description of contents, in accordance with the Civil Aviation National Security Plan and in compliance with European Regulation 300/2008 dated 11 March 2008. The Known Consignor Letter form can be requested from your franchise.

• WEIGHT
